

Winter and Summer 2016 Program

We are proud to announce The Powell Cotillion program for the middle school aged student. The Powell Cotillion will help your child develop the confidence and poise to meet any social challenge - the awkward first co-ed dance, social occasion or formal event. Your child will learn life skills he or she will apply throughout his or her adult life!

For more information, contact or Stacey Haney at shaney@glassslipperteas.com (614) 433-9171 or Nora Cline at ncline@modernmanners.com (614) 888-4944.

Frequently Asked Questions:

What Is Powell Cotillion?

*Powell Cotillion combines educational and interactive lessons in social etiquette and dance to educate young people in the importance of social graces in today's competitive world. Your child's success in higher academics, and later in business, may be determined in part by his or her knowledge, understanding and use of positive social skills - learned, practiced and enjoyed at Powell Cotillion! With a combined experience of over 30 years of etiquette instruction and party etiquette and planning, Nora Cline of Modern Manners and Stacey Haney of The Glass Slipper are proud to offer this much needed, and greatly requested, program to the young people of Delaware County and surrounding areas.

What Will My Son or Daughter Learn at Powell Cotillion?

We, at Powell Cotillion, know and understand the need to be considerate of others in our daily activities at home, school and away. For 24 years, Nora has taught etiquette to thousands of children in central Ohio, while Stacey has taught party and event planning for 10 years. Through the use of interactive lessons and role-play, your son or daughter will see first-hand how they are perceived by others – *especially the adults in their lives – as they act out real life social situations: at the dining table, in public, at a party, while on the dance floor – to name a few! Each session includes both dance and etiquette instruction.

The social etiquette components of Powell Cotillion includes: first impressions, , importance of eye contact, introductions, polite conversation and listening, cell-phone and technology etiquette, every-day and special occasion etiquette, posture, poise, appearance, proper dress for proper occasions, receiving lines, party etiquette, gracious hosts and welcome guests, polite mingling, table manners, and more!

The traditional dance and dance etiquette components of Powell Cotillion includes: dance floor etiquette, courteous approach and dance request, polite responses, graciously offering and accepting compliments, basic dance steps for four-step, foxtrot, swing and several popular line dances.

What makes Powell Cotillion unique?

Experience, Content and Value. With the combined experience of over 30 years in the instruction of social and table etiquette, character enrichment, event planning and personal development, our directors know what it takes to teach effectively, relate well to children, keep students interested and focused on the subject material – all while having fun! Program content is relevant, up to date and presented in a fun and interesting way. Fee structure is very affordable, compared to the national standard.
