

About Stacey Haney

Stacey Haney became the Chief Princess Officer of The Glass Slipper in March of 2008. Since that time she has enjoyed introducing new tea party themes, summer day camps, Manners and Art classes for preschool children during the school year, and special-tea Teas such as the Trick-or-Tea Party, Holly Jolly Tea, Mother's Day Tea, and Daddy and Doughnuts.

Stacey has several years of experience in event planning, leadership and program development and enjoys working with children. After taking six years off of work to be home with her children, she decided that the opportunity with The Glass Slipper was a perfect fit. Stacey enjoys planning events and activities for children and families in the community. She also enjoys giving back to the community by donating birthday tea parties to several elementary school silent auctions and volunteering at programs such as Enrichment Day. The Glass Slipper, in May 2010, held a Black Tie Tea Event benefiting The Second and Seven Foundation, which writes and publishes books that are donated to underprivileged children.

Stacey holds a Bachelor's of Liberal Arts from Kent State University and a Master's of Education, Supervision from Ashland University.
